New Foundland exported last year 1,104,535 quintals of codfish.

They are building so many shoe shops in Haverhill, Massachusetts, that the people look for 3,000 increase in population by next year.

The State of Massachusetts has paid to soldiers and their families, from the commencement of the war until the present time, $28,500,179 51.

☞ This immediate locality is just now claiming an unpleasant notice as productive of crimes of the more violent sort, and of a nature to rank with the most sensational incidents of these wicked days. The tragedy at Chelsea is speedily followed by a similar deed of blood in Lowell, and in each the passion which goes by the name of love was the inciting cause of the crime. The Chelsea murder was the most disgraceful in its known circumstances. An old man meets the father of a grown family at the residence of a middle-aged woman with whom each is ridiculously infatuated, clinches with him in a rough and tumble fight on the floor, and knives him to death.

The picture of these two respectable citizens fighting like children over their faded toy would be ridiculous but for the bloody ending of the sketch. In Lowell the power of jealousy is seen in its operations at another age. Two beardless youths strive for the privilege of "seeing home" a rosy cheeked school-girl from church, and the less favored rival promptly shoots the successful boy as he comes out of the Deacon's gate, whistling on his way home. Both of these cases are abnormal and shocking in their nature, and we may well stop to consider where our society is tending when scrageneratians take to the knife and school-boys to the pistol to settle affairs of the heart.—Boston Post.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, February 29.—In the Senate, the Judiciary Committee reported adversely and asked the indefinite postponement of the bill allowing accused persons to testify in their own behalf. Morton said that he had heard the protests from two Southern District Attorneys, and that the passage of the bill would work great dynamite to certain persons whom they were about to try. Hamlin objected to indefinite postponement, and the bill went on the calendar.

The bill placing obstacles in the way of former owners of lands to be sold for taxes in insurrectionary States went over under objections of Johnston, of Virginia.

In the House the St. Croix Railroad bill was up.

A saloon keeper at Hamilton, Ohio, was shot fatally by a colored till tapper.

Johnny Devine, a pugilist, has been convicted of murder at San Francisco.

The Apaches captured Dole Creek Station, Arizona, killing three men and capturing some stage horses.

The Germans of San Francisco are not organizing for independent action in the coming Presidential campaign.

A Matamoras special says the San Juan has left Brownsville for Camorjo with bonded goods. The Mexican authorities have abandoned the idea of capturing her en route but propose to start a force to aid Cortena in the capture of Camorjo before the San Juan's arrived.

Reports from Tampico state that the revolutionists captured San Luis Potosi.

A dispatch from Albany says that the Judiciary Committee will recommend the impeachment of Judges Cordozo and Barnard.

Grave's cotton factory, at Craigville, was burned. Loss $20,000.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, February 29.—It is understood that Leet & Co. will continue to hold their bonded warehouses, but have lost the general order business. The statue forbids the prosecution of merchants for bribery based upon their evidence before the committee.

Seward thinks the demand for consequential damages beneath the dignity of the United States, which should demand an apology instead of money. He thinks war impossible.

MARYLAND

BALTIMORE, February 29.—Benjamin F. Johnson, for 11 years a faithful operator in the Western Union Telegraph Office in this city, and one of the best operators in this country, died last night of consumption—aged 22.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, February 29.—It is reported that Queen Victoria will visit the Imperial Princess of Germany.

The Lord Mayor of London presented a congratulatory address to the Prince of Wales.

Five were killed and thirty injured by the pressure at thanksgiving ceremonies.

Flour dull but heavy. Wheat dull and nominally lower. Corn dull and heavy. Pork dull; new mess $14a14 12½. Lard quiet; steam 9¼a9½. Turpentine dull at 84½. Rosin weak at $4 90 for strained. Freights dull. Stocks dull. Gold 10½. Money firm at 7. Governments very heavy. Exchange—long 9½; short 10¼.

LONDON, February 29, noon.—Consols 92½ Bonds 91½. Tallow 40s.

PARIS, February 29.—Rentes 56f 62c.

LIVERPOOL, February 29, noon.—Cotton opened quiet; uplands 11¼a11½; Orleans 11¾. Breadstuffs quiet.

LATER.—Cotton heavy; uplands 11¼a11½; Orleans 11¾; sales 10,000 bales; speculation and export 2,000. Pork 57s. Lard 44s 6d.

☞ A New York city paper thinks the fact that over six hundred personal applications—mostly made by girls of from fifteen to twenty—were made in one day at the Grand Opera House to fill places in the ballet and Oriental marches of the spectacle of Lalla Rookh, is evidence of a fearful lack of employment for women. We think differently. It is evidence, rather, that the women in New York, like so many women in all quarters of the land, are unwilling to do the work which properly belongs to them to do, and prefer any shift, even the degrading one mentioned above, to honest household labor. No respectable girl, if she have health and ordinary strength, need want for the comforts nor fall from the decencies of life if she is willing to toil in the sphere to which nature has plainly called her. Men think it no disgrace to become carpenters and masons, and it is certainly as respectable to clean a house and keep it in order, as it is to build it. This is what young women need to be told and taught to believe, and earnest efforts in this direction would soon drive the Mrs. Woodhulls of the Lyceums and the public prints into the obscurity from which they sprung.—Boston Courier.

KANGAROO LEATHER.—A consignment of 7,000 salted kangaroo skins was received in San Francisco, several months since, from Australia, and purchased by parties who propose to convert them into leather. The skins are now being tanned at a tannery located on the beach opposite Yerba Buena Island, on the northern outskirts of Oakland. The skin of the kangaroo is quite thin but exceedingly tough, and when tanned into leather is very pliable and soft, wearing a long time without cracking, and turning water better than calf skin. Tanned alligator skins from Mexico and Central America are a common article in the San Francisco market, and are used to a considerable extent in manufacturing boots, where strength and capacity to resist water are more desired than a fancy fit or elegance of appearance; but kangaroo is emphatically a new sensation in the leather line.—Copy Hook.

A NOVEL SURGICAL OPERATION.—A novel surgical operation was recently performed by a San Francisco physician. The patient had been shot. The bullet entered the right side, a little above the hip, and in probing the wound the surgeon discovered where the bullet lay. He was compelled to enlarge the orifice of the wound in order to introduce the forceps, and had just got that instrument on the bullet when the wounded man, who was under the influence of liquor, struck him a powerful blow on the side of the head, which caused him to fall to the floor. He then ran away, and when the doctor recovered himself he found the forceps in one corner of the room, and near the instrument was the bullet, which had been extracted by the force of the blow. The doctor says that as a surgical operation it was a complete success, but still he is not partial to the method.

THE COAL OF ENGLAND.—One hundred and twenty million tons of coal were taken out of the British coal fields last year, representing the exhaustion of a seam six feet thick, over an area of twenty thousand acres. It is manifest that at this rate of consumption any coal beds not practically limitless in extent must be exhausted within a term of years not difficult to compute. Even now the principal workings have been carried so far below the surface that the nation has begun to fear that the day when its coal mines shall be exhausted may not be far distant.

HOT BREAD.—One of the most injurious dietetic habits of Americans is that of eating fresh hot bread, cake, and biscuit. The Prussian government compels bakers to keep their bread at least one day before selling. If Americans would follow their example, there would be fewer dyspeptics than at present. There is not one dyspeptic German where there are a dozen dyspeptic Americans. This fact, however, is but one of many causes for this marked difference. The only fresh, hot bread that is wholly unobjectionable, is the unleavened bread, crackers, or gems.—Exchange.

☞ Thomas Hughes writes in Macmillan for December that "the average American citizen is one of the most reserved, taciturn and matter-of-fact of mortals."

An Important Decision.

The Supreme Court of this State has recently announced the following decision:

Where a factor makes advances to a planter, and takes a lien upon the growing crops under Revised Code, section 1978, such advances are in the nature of purchase money, and the lien is therefore superior to the wife's title, where the crop was set apart to her as personalty, after it was made.

This statement is correct, as will be found by reference to THE CONSTITUTION'S report of the Supreme Court Decisions.

Ku-Klux.

A paper away up in New Hampshire asks the following question:

"Why is it that there is no Ku-Klux violence in any Southern State that is governed by the Southern people? Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, (recently,) Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee—is there any trouble there? None. Why? Nobody has a political motive to make any trouble. Some of our folks pretend to be afraid to trust the blacks with the whites of the South, yet they have the assuring fact that when let alone, there is no trouble."

General Grant's Nomination.

The Republican State Convention of Kansas has chosen a delegation to the Philadelphia National Convention with instructions "to vote for General Grant, whose administration has brought us a degree of prosperity at home and respect and dignity abroad which it would be suicidal to interrupt or interfere with till time has been given to complete the work so well begun and so auspiciously prosecuted to the present time." The prospect is now that Grant will be easily nominated.

"P. W. A."

The gentleman so well known to the public by these familiar initials that it is wholly unnecessary to mention his name, is doing valuable service to the State as private and confidential Secretary to our newly elected Governor. There is so much to be done in overhauling the mountain load of thieving and maladministration that accumulated under the bayonet and Bullock reign, that the Governor needs the constant assistance of intelligent, honest, and laborious men, in full sympathy with himself. We fear, however, that he will not be able to retain the services of "P. W. A." in that capacity. The salary of a Secretary is too small to justify a residence in Atlanta and abandonment of his profession by a man without fortune. We hear, too, that strong temptations have been held out to him to return to editorial life, though on a theatre where he would be of but little service to Georgia. The report is, that he has been offered the handsome salary of $3,000 in gold, to take charge of a leading journal in Canada. We can only say, that strong as may be his love for gold, we hope he loves Georgia more, and will continue to stand by her, at a time when she needs the aid of all her true-hearted sons. Savannah Republican.

We clip the above from the Savannah Republican, and intend to have our "say," object who will. But we know in advance that the people will not object, when we affirm that the gentleman mentioned is everybody's favorite for the Attorney-Generalship of the State. Governor Smith by his appointment, would pay a double compliment. First, to individual merit, and secondly to the press of Georgia for thus honoring one of their most talented and able representatives. There will doubtless be a vacancy in a few days, as the telegraph tells us that the present Attorney-General has been appointed United States District Attorney.

The Greatness of London.

Some idea of the size of London, and what is required to keep up this city, can be formed from the recent census, and some other facts. According to the last census, the population is 3,883,002. This vast multitude is more than the combined population of New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, St. Louis, Chicago, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Boston, New Orleans, San Francisco, Buffalo, and Allegheny City, Pennsylvania. To lodge these people, 770,000 dwellings are required, and the people consume annually about 4,000,000, barrels of flour, 420,000 bullocks, 2,975,000 sheep, 40,000 calves, 61,250 hogs, and one market alone supplies annually 7,043,750 head of game. This, together with 5,300,000 salmon, irrespective of other fish and flesh, is washed down by 75,600,000 gallons of ale and porter, 8,500,000 gallons of spirits, and 113,579 pipes of wine. To fill its milk and cream jugs 23,750 cows are kept. To light its streets at night 630,000 gas lights are required, consuming every twenty-four hours 22,272,000 cubic feet of gas. Its water system supplies the enormous quantity of 77,670,834 gallons per day, while its sewer system carries off 16,639,770 cubic feet of refuse. To warm its inhabitants a fleet of 1,800 sail is employed in bringing, irrespective of railroads, annually, 5,250,000 tons of coal. The smoke of this immense quantity of coal is sometimes so dense as to be plainly seen thirty-six miles from the city. To clothe this multitude we find there are 4,100 tailors, 50,400 boot and shoemakers, nearly 70,000 milliners and dressmakers, and 297,400 domestic servants. The streets of the metropolis are about two thousand in number, and if put together would extend about four thousand miles. The principal ones are traversed by about 1,500 omnibuses and 4,000 cabs, besides private carriages and carts, employing 50,000 horses.

History of Sicilian.

About two hundred and eighty years B. C., Hiero, of Alexandria, made a toy which was moved by steam.

A. D. 650, Anthemius, an architect, experimented with steam, demonstrating its power. This is the first notice of the power of steam on record.

In 1543, June 17th, Blasco D. Garay experimented with a steamboat at Barcelona, Spain. It was abandoned as impracticable.

In 1650 the first tram-railway was constructed at Newcastle-on-Tyne.

The first idea of a steam engine in England was from the Marquis of Worcester's "History of Inventions," in 1663.

In 1710, Newcomen made the first steam engine in England.

In 1718 patents were granted to Savery in England for the first application of the steam engine.

In 1774 James Watt made the first perfect steam engine in England.

In 1776 Jonathan Hulls set forth the idea of steam navigation.

In 1778 Thomas Paine first proposed this application in America.

In 1781 Marquis Jouffroy constructed a steam engine in Saone.

In 1785 two Americans published a work on the steam engine.

In 1770 William Tymington constructed a steamboat and made a voyage in it on the Forth and Clyde canal.

In 1809 he repeated his experiment.

In 1789 Ramsey propelled a boat by steam.

In 1783 John Pitch, of Philadelphia, navigated a boat by steam on the Delaware.

In 1793 Robert Fulton first turned his attention to steam.

In 1793 Oliver Evans, of Philadelphia, constructed a locomotive to travel on a turnpike road.

In the month of June, 1819, the American steamer Savannah crossed the Atlantic from Charleston to Liverpool.

Extent of the Sumac Business.

Efforts are now being made in Congress to have sumac placed on the free list, and a protest is heard from Virginia. The Richmond Dispatch says on the subject:

There is annually paid out of this city alone for sumac leaves over a hundred thousand dollars. This large amount is scattered over the eastern and southern portion of the State, and goes to help mostly those who are needy, for, as a rule the poor are the only gatherers, and they would feel the blow most sensibly, and many an old "aunty" and her children would have to go without a new dress or pair of shoes for want of the extra money the grinders could pay them, if they were getting a fair price for their sumac.

Before the war, there were only four sumac mills in the Southern country, and the amount ground out was limited to less than a thousand tons. The production, in fact, amounted in money value to less than $50,000. Now there are about seven mills in Virginia. These mills ground out last year 5,000 tons of sumac, worth at least $300,000, at present prices.

Mr. Hill's Speech.

We have read the speech of this distinguished gentleman with great pleasure, as everything which comes from him is ever sure to command attention. It appears in THE CONSTITUTION of the 24th, and is an elaborate presentation of his political course, and a defense of himself and his political affiliations. We have never sought occasion to find fault causelessly with Mr. Hill, but on the contrary, have been a warm admirer of the course which he has pursued in many particulars, with here and there an exception. The speech is able, and, bating much that is erroneous, will be read with pleasure by all who may see it, though they may not agree with him in his positions or conclusions.

Mr Hill is not only a great speaker, but evidently is one of our best thinkers; and while it is not to be expected that everything he says will meet with indorsement, yet there is much that is deserving of the gravest consideration. No man can—nay, no man ought always, to adhere to the same political course. Circumstances arise, which, while they may not destroy a principle, yet require and demand a departure from preconceived resolves. We are not ready to pronounce a man traitor to party or to principle who may choose such a course for himself, but on the contrary believe that the highest duty and the greatest political wisdom may demand it. What we may insist upon to-day, we may properly resign to-morrow. The spirit of intolerance upon which he so eloquently and with great personal feeling discourses, has been the fruitful source of much evil to the country, and the earnestness with which he implores its abandonment by every friend of the country, should meet with a large and hearty response.

As before stated, there is much, very much in this speech with which we heartily agree. There are other things, however, which meet with our protest. But whatever of fault we might find we can never forget, and it is with a sort of proud satisfaction that we remember and we say it to his credit, that when in the hour of our darkest trial, all other hands were still and all other voices hushed, he, and he only had the ability and the courage to come forward in defense of the down trodden South and his native Georgia, and gave to the world his celebrated "notes on the situation," which not only inspired hope in her fainting breast and made glad the hearts of her people, but which for great truths and powerful logic and brave declaration of the rights of the people, under the law and the constitution, were republished in Northern States, and gave the first impetus to the flagging energies of the Democratic party throughout the Union, inspiring them to make yet further and unceasing efforts to save the country from the vortex of Radicalism, which imperiled its liberties. Mr. Hill has this honor, and it is his, and he richly deserves it. He proved himself then, a bold, brave, and unconquerable patriot, a man of nerve, of heart and truth, and a love of truth, and of his country.

If errors mark his course since then, we can only think of them with regret, while we remember his past with gratitude and delight. We thanked him in person for his noble efforts, then; we thank him in our heart even now.—Cartersville Standard and Express.

☞ An exhibition was given yesterday by four Fiji Island cannibals, at room No. 14 Astor House, under the auspices of Mr. Barnum, to 150 friends. He has obtained three of these natives by depositing $15,000 with the American Consul as security for their return in August, 1874, to the king of a hostile tribe who had captured them. In the event of their return they are to suffer death, and possibly will be eaten. Mr. Barnum, however, disclaims any intention of sending them back to satisfy the demands of Fiji justice. A woman who had been educated by missionaries accompanied the agent to this country voluntarily. She read passages yesterday from a copy of the New Testament printed in the Fiji language. The captives were liberally daubed with paint, and displayed ostrich and peacock feathers on their heads. They performed war dances to the accompaniment of monotonous songs. The dwarf varied the entertainment by playing on a flute through his nose. The time was as enlivening as variations on two notes could possibly be.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ A traveler in Polynesia concludes as a description of the women of Tahiti:

The most bashful and coy never will pass you without a greeting, a glance of the eyes, and a slight gathering in of her dress with her elbows, to exhibit her buxom figure to full perfection. Or else, perhaps, she will come up coquettishly, and ask you for the loan of your cigar, take a few puffs at it, and hand it back again gracefully to the rather astonished owner; and then, with a parting compliment, which you most likely don't understand, let you go your way in peace—or not. The proper way to walk with your lady-love in Tahiti is as follows: You put your arm round her neck, and she hers round your waist, and hangs on your breast in a simply affectionate manner. It is as much selon les regles as walking arm-in-arm, and much prettier to look at.

☞ An apothecary's boy was lately sent to leave at a house a box of pills, and at another six live fowls. Confused on the way, he left the pills where the fowls should have gone, and the fowls at the pill place. The folks who received the fowls were astonished at receiving a note accompanying their order: "Swallow one every two hours."

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Senate—State Securities Bullock—Kennedy Contemplates Carpet-Baggers—Scruples Regarding Marie Stevenson—Award—Naval Hostage for the Marines—Robbs' Libelous Claims—Great Western Canal.

WASHINGTON, February 29, 1872.

Saturday's sessions of the House are usually devoted to Buncombe speeches. On these occasions the small beer politicians crawl to empty benches, and cross-roads statesmen wax eloquent over the stalest of platitudes. The House of Representatives then fairly merits its title of "the Cave of the Winds." On Saturday last, Mr. Bigby, of Georgia, aired his maiden oratory. His theme was R. B. Bullock, your absconding Governor, and his purpose to defend the stealing and frauds which have emptied the State treasury, and entailed an enormous debt upon the people, for which they have received no equivalent. The attendance was slim, as usual, when the House met, and when Mr. Bigby got the floor there were not a dozen members present. Among these he had but two listeners. Speer and Whitely left their own seats and placed themselves at the feet of Bigby, where they drank in his utterances with evident satisfaction. Mr. McIntyre, the only Democratic member present of your delegation, retained his own seat, and was quite out of ear-shot of Bigby's weak voice.

In opening his remarks Mr. Bigby took exception to the assertions cast on the carpet-bag governments of the Southern States by opposition members on the floor of the House, evidently referring to the startling exposes of Mr. Beck, of Kentucky. Is it not a little remarkable that a native Georgian should constitute himself a champion of the carpet-bag element, which has plundered very Southern State in which it has found a footing. Mr. Bigby evidently felt he had a hard task before him in defending the Bullock ring. He said: "That the government of Georgia is not as perfect as its friends would have it be, and that those who have administered its different departments are not as pure as an exacting morality would require, I presume no one will pretend to deny." "Exacting morality" is good. He thought, however, that if the most exacting and remorseless investigation" would "fail to disclose any great moral turpitude, or to discover anything more than occasional blunders in the policy pursued." "Occasional blunders," is good, as applied to the persistent stealing of Bullock, Blodgett & Co.

Mr. Bigby then proceeded to give his version of the history of reconstruction in Georgia, and sustained Bullock in his wholesale exercise of the pardoning power. Of carpet-bag thefts and swindles, he said: "It is charged that the people of Georgia have been robbed and swindled under Radical rulers, and taxed until their burdens are too grevious to be borne. While there has doubtless been mismanagement upon the part of some officials, and in some instances peculation, yet the wholesale corruption charged is not supported by the facts, nor has there been that amount of extravagance which the opposition would have the country believe." How far Mr. Bigby keeps within the bounds of truth in this declaration the people of Georgia have reason to know, and to their sorrow.

The expenditure of Governor Jenkins and Bullock are then contrasted, and a mass of figures given, whose correctness is questionable. It is stated that "the expenditures of Governor Jenkins' administration, for a given period of time, exceed those of Governor Bullock for a like period of time—a year being taken as the standard—by the sum of $831,537 87; and that, too, when the necessity for heavy expenses was in favor of Governor Bullock, and the most expensive year of his administration having been taken for the comparison." I have not the necessary documents at hand to verify these statements, but I trust they will be submitted to a searching investigation. Admitting the extravagance of the carpet-bag government Mr. Bigby declares the "Democratic rule in Georgia is obnoxious to the same charge—just as vulnerable, and rather more so."

I shall not hesitate to pronounce this statement a whopper, on general principles. Referring to the State debt, Mr. Bigby denied that the actual indebtedness is thirty or forty million dollars, and asserted that her real debt is represented by the figures $8,618,750 I doubt if any man can tell to-day the real debt of Georgia, nor will it be known until a full investigation is had with the acts of the Bullock ring. Increased taxation Mr. Bigby regards as the legitimate result of the war, and in one sense he is correct. Carpet-bagism was a result of the war, and carpet-bagism created increased taxation, to build itself up from beggary to wealth. Mr. Bigby's review of Bullock is particularly rich. He denies that Bullock's administration was a carpet-bag admisistration. He does not think Bullock was "a great financier," nor that "his ideas of statesmanship" were as "comprehensive as those of some of his predecessors." He holds, however, that Bullock's "purposes in the main were good," and that "under the policy of his administration the resources of the State were largely developed." He referred to the increased construction of railroads, however, an unfortunate one, as it is well known that some of these roads were subsidized by Bullock to an amount exceeding the cost of their construction. I quote again from the official report.

"While the Governor remained loyal to the Republican cause, I believe the most rigid investigation into his official conduct will fail to discover on his part any criminal conduct whatever. It was not until he began to conspire with Democracy that divergence from the line of official rectitude became apparent. For twelve months or more preceding his departure from the State, we had regarded him as a convert to the heresies of Democracy. All of his appointments were Democratic."

The appointments of Judge Lochrane, Hon. W. F. Wright and Hon. John L. Hopkins were then instanced. Mr. Bigby further stated that "if the two hundred employees upon the State Road a large majority were Democratic," and that "the same tale might be told of all the appointments made throughout the entire State." Therefore it is charged that the Democrats are responsible for Bullock's villainy, and not the Radicals. This is rich. Mr. Bigby started out to defend Bullock, and ends by flinging him at the Democrats. In concluding, he said:

"Mr. Speaker, I have said this much, not in vindication of Governor Bullock, for I aspire to no such task, but to aid the cause of truth, and to relieve Georgia, in so far as I can, from the circulation of a slander that must inevitably damage her credit, cripple her resources, exclude from her borders the emigrant with his capital and enterprise, and exert a blighting influence upon all of her prospects for wealth and prosperity. I speak for Georgia and her government, feeling assured that every one who lives in her may enter the race for wealth, prosperity and happiness with a fair prospect of achieving success."

If Mr. Bigby was actuated by the purposes alleged in the above paragraph, he took a very poor way for carrying them out. He says he did not aspire to the task of vindicating Bullock; yet his whole speech is devoted to that end, and to perpetuating slanders on the Democracy of the State. Everybody knows that Georgia, while powerless to resist, was plundered and swindled by the carpet-baggers. It is useless to deny this, or to attempt to conceal it. The Democrats are now in power, and if, as Mr Bigby declares, they are more corrupt and extravagant than the Radicals, how can he advise people to make their homes in Georgia. In this respect Mr. Bigby gives the lie to his assertions.

In conclusion, I may say that a more crude, ill-advised, impolitic speech has rarely been heard on the floor of the House. It is humiliating such a production should emanate from a native Georgian. From a carpet-bagger nothing better could have been expected. If it does not prove the political death-knell of the Speaker, and condemn him at home in the estimation of Democrats and Radicals alike, I shall be greatly surprised.

BOBB'S "LITTLE GAME."

I have devoted so much space to Mr. Bigby, that I have little left for other matters. The following is the proof slip of an editorial which did not appear in one of our city papers, because of reasons satisfactory to the editor, and not as might be inferred, because he had been "seen" by Robb:

On Tuesday the President sent to the Senate the following nomination: James Atkins, to be collector of the port of Savannah, in place of T. P. Robb, removed. Robb was in the city, but quite unaware of his deception, and did not hear of the nomination of his successor until late in the evening. He then started for the White House and proceeded to call upon the President to allow him to resign. He thereupon wrote a letter of resignation, in which he says he retires to promote harmony in the Republican party of Georgia. This is entirely "too thin." However, the nomination of Atkins was withdrawn from the Senate on Wednesday and returned on Friday, reading, "James Atkins, to be collector at the port of Savannah, in place of T. P. Robb, resigned." These facts having been transmitted to Georgia, it is observed that Robb will not make much by his "little game."

THE ATLANTIC AND GREAT WESTERN CANAL.

Means's delegation to urge the passage of the bill providing aid to this great project have not arrived in Washington. I fear, I have not been able to do justice to the bill when I shall say every effort will be made to secure its passage as early as possible in this session, there being a disposition to let all measures of the kind remain already about as they are.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, February 29.—The Japs arrived here to-day. Six Princesses proceeded immediately to the Georgetown and the males went to the Arlington Hotel. Gov. Cooke and Delegate Chipman received them.

Belknap stated before the House Committee on investigation of arms that he never to his knowledge sold arms to the French government or French agent. He made a long explanation regarding the handling of funds, and was before the Committee an hour and a half when it adjourned to March 12th.

In the Senate, the House bill exempting canned fruits, etc., passed, and goes to the President.

Sawyer, from the Committee of Education and Labor, reported adversely upon the educational suffrage idea.

Chandler rose to a personal explanation, and read a letter from a gentleman in Jackson, Michigan, stating that somebody had sent him certain Reform movements and Liberal Republican documents under his (Chandler's) frank and that of Senator Morton. The writer expressed his astonishment that these two distinguished Senators should circulate such publications, and asked Chandler to send him no more documents, unless they had the true ring.

Chandler said that his frank on these documents was a forgery, but as the whole Liberal Republican movement was a fraud, he was not surprised that those who were engaged in it resorted to forgery.

Morton also stated that the use of his frank on those documents, or on any such, was a fraud and a forgery.

Tipton rose to a personal explanation and said that he had been almost as unfortunate as Chandler. He had sent one of that Senators speeches to a constituent, and had had it indignantly returned, with a request that if he indorsed such sentiments he would never send his frank to that constituent again. [Laughter.]

A bill admitting six Japs to West Point passed.

The sale of arms question was resumed, the preamble rejected, and the resolution of inquiry adopted.

In the House, the St. Croix Railroad question provoked long discussions, and many calls of yeas and nays. It is stated that during the debate that bills were pending giving 200,000,000 acres to railroad companies. A prolonged debate followed. Finally the bill was recommitted to the Committee on Public Lands, by yeas 112; nays 77.

The House then adjourned.

Probabilities.—The low barometer over West Virginia will probably move northeastwardly over the middle Atlantic and southern New England States—the area of snow extending during the night over the latter, where the winds will veer eastward. Northwesterly winds with rising barometer and clearing but partially cloudy weather will extend northeastward over the Middle States by and during Friday morning and the southwestern New England States by Friday evening. Pleasant weather with northwest winds will prevail from the Ohio Valley to the south Atlantic coast. Northerly winds veering to the eastward are probable for the western Gulf States. Dangerous winds are not anticipated for the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

NEW ORLEANS, February 29.—The upper stories of two buildings on Canal street, Nos. 64 and 66, were burned this morning. The buildings are occupied by Wagner & Meyer, Ernest & Praget and Dolbear's Commercial College. Loss estimated at $100,000. Insured in home companies.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, February 29.—The Times says that England might say nothing save what she is required to in obedience to the decision of the German tribunal of arbitration. She has never dreamed of offering any commission of difficulties outside of the treaty and if the treaty is a failure it is the fault of the American government.

A miscreant fired on Constitution Hill but no damage was done. The miscreant has been arrested.

CANADA.

OTTAWA, February 29.—A dispatch states that Hon. James Howe condemns the policy of England in withdrawing the troops from Canada, and predicts a rupture between the home government and that of the Dominion if a better understanding is not soon arrived at. He jeers the cowardice of England in concentrating its army and navy around the Island of Great Britain, and urges independence as the only course open to the Canadians, and asks the people to prepare for separation.

FRANCE.

PARIS, February 29.—It is reported that Thiers has again offered the Pope the hospitality of France, and Austria tenders Salzburg Castle for his residence.

☞ A green academy student being required to write a composition in his regular course of studies, commenced thus: "It is rather difficult and pretty near impossible to communicate to others those ideas, wherein we ourselves are not possessed."

☞ "Harry," said a young lady on a neat horse to us the other day, "what kind of a bird should like to be an actress?" "An ostrich, Henrietta," we replied. "Oh, it must be so nice to be made love to in such pretty words every evening!"

The Past Winter.

The present has been the severest winter Montana has ever known.

A ranch of 1,170 acres, located near Chico, California, was recently sold for $76,000.

Twelve thousand tons of sugar beets will be raised at Alvarado this season for manufacture.

The proprietors of a farm near San Lorenzo, Alamade county, California, are setting out 2,500 mulberry trees and twenty acres of English walnuts.

☞ A society is forming in New York having for its object the suppression of obscene literature. The object is a worthy one, though the organization of an association to police it suggests a culpable failure on the part of the police authorities to perform their duties. However, there is such an organization now, and it finds plenty to do in that well-governed city. Quite recently the publisher of a filthy periodical was prosecuted, when it was urged in his defense that the objectionable illustrations were copies of well-known paintings in public galleries; but the presiding judge held that it did not follow that because such pictures could be exhibited in galleries of art they could therefore be multiplied and retailed upon the public streets. The publisher was fined and put under bonds to discontinue his publication. Chicago Times.

THE TURTLE DOVE.—The turtle dove is spread over the whole continent of Europe, even very far northward, but is not found within the Arctic circle. In the autumn it visits the shores of the Mediterranean, going still farther southward as the season advances. It feeds on grain and vegetables, frequenting fields of corn and peas. The note of the dove is merely a summer visitor to the British Islands, arriving in April or May. It is more numerous in the southern and midland than in the northern countries, but it has been seen both in Scotland and Ireland. It frequents woods and fir plantations, and also thick hedges of plowed fields.

☞ Beauty too often sacrifices to fashion. The spirit of fashion is not the beautiful but the willful; not the graceful but the fantastic; not the superior in the abstract, but the superior in the very worst of all concretes—the vulgar. It is the vulgarity that can afford to shift and vary itself, opposed to the vulgarity that longs to do so, but cannot. The high point of taste and elegance is to be sought for, not in the most fashionable circles, but in the best bred and such as can dispense with the eternal necessity of never being the same thing.—Leigh Hunt.

DURING the reign of the commune in France, the tax collector called on the Rothschilds for certain taxes due on the shares of different companies of which they are the agents. If they had refused to pay, the consequences may easily be imagined; their entire property in Paris would have been subjected to the summary process of confiscation that was very much in vogue during that epoch. But they were too discreet to refuse, and paid the sum, about $185,000. And now the courts have decided that they must pay it again to the present government, as the payment to the communal authorities cannot be recognized.—Chicago Times.

☞ A politician boasted that he could tell any kind of wine or liquor, blindfold, merely by the taste. He was tried with one kind after another, and really named them. At last a glass of water was handed him. He tasted it, hesitated, tasted it again, smelled it, retasted it and then said, "I give it up. That's a brand of liquor I never got hold of before."

SHADOOYSTERS.—Emery, at the Atlanta Ice House, sells fresh shad and Norfolk oysters, wholesale and retail. They are good!

ST. LUKE'S SUNDAY SCHOOL.—Remember the concert to-night for the benefit of St. Luke's Sunday School. Turn out en masse and give material aid to this worthy cause.

THE SENOIA JOURNAL.—C. P. Vaughn, publisher of the Senoia Journal, published at Senoia, Coweta county, is in the city in the interest of his paper. Senoia is a rising town, and in a fine section.

O. I. C.—H. F. Emery moved back yesterday into the old Atlanta Ice House; and perpetrates this conundrum in another column: "Who would use any other kind of Ice when they can buy Pure Crystal Lake Ice at one cent per pound, wholesale and one and a half cents, retail." We give it up.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—Superintendent Mallon is discharging the duties of his position with signal ability and untiring energy. His office hours are from three to five o'clock, P. M. The painters in painting his sign made the laughable mistake of putting "office hours from three to four p. m."

G. H & A. W. FORCE.—A visit to the shoe-store of the Messrs. Force will convince any one that the enterprising gentlemen composing this firm have a thorough understanding of the wants of the people. Their stock is of the best quality and in the latest and most fashionable styles. Their shoes wear well.

ACCIDENTS.—A negro man yesterday was run over by the cars on the State Road, a few miles out of the city and instantly killed.

A negro child, in the eastern part of the city, was burned to death yesterday by her clothes catching fire during the absence of her mother.

PERSONAL.—Mr. L. Feuchtwanger, the Chemist and author on Gems, of New York city, is now at the Kimball House, and is doing much in developing our mineral resources by extensive experiments on their qualities and quantities, as compared with other countries. We hope our business and scientific citizens will afford him every facility.

LEAP YEAR BALL.—Concordia Hall, on Wednesday night, was the scene of unalloyed pleasure, as the young ladies and gentlemen of Atlanta enjoyed themselves in the "Leap Year Ball." Music lent its enchantment to the hours which glided by on noiseless wing, and the supper was in that superb style so peculiar to the Concordia. It was a brilliant affair, from its opening to its close.

CLARK & GOSS.—We take pleasure in calling attention to the law card of Messrs. Clark & Goss Judge Richard H. Clark is a lawyer of great probity of character, a scholar and cultivated christian gentleman. As a lawyer, he takes the front rank in the profession. Jesse M. Goss is a young man of culture and ability, and devoted to his profession. Messrs. Clark & Goss will discharge their whole duty to their clients.

"Jess So."—The brilliant and eloquent paragraphist of the Louisville Courier-Journal says: "An Atlanta Alderman purchased a new spade." As the witty and erudite editor alluded to a paragraph in this paper we call his attention to the fact that we did not state that the Alderman purchased the spade. We simply remarked that on one side of Whitehall street could be seen an Alderman sporting a new $150 suit of clothes, and on the other side an Alderman with a new spade on his shoulder.

BALTIMORE ECLECTIC INSTITUTE.—The summer session of the above school begins on the 17th of April. Pupils may be entered either for the half session closing on the first of September, or for the full scholastic session closing the first week in February, 1873. The number of pupils is limited to forty. The principal Mrs Letitia Tyler Semple, is acknowledged as a superior instructor of young ladies. The pupils board in the same house and eat at the same table with her, enjoying at all times her care and supervision. The "Eclectic" is a favorite with the young ladies of the South.

M. W. JOHNSON.—This enterprising gentleman is prepared to supply in large quantities and on accommodating terms, sea fowl, and other well known Fertilizers. If you desire to improve your stock of hogs or sheep you can supply yourself by applying to him. The season for gardening is open, and if you would succeed well, get pure, fresh seed. Mr. Johnson is prepared to supply you with almost anything you desire in that line. A visit to this Agricultural Warehouse on Broad street is worth the cost of a trip to Atlanta. The large number of farming implements, labor-saving machines, etc., are interesting to look at, to the progressive planter.—Gwinnett Atlas.

EDUCATIONAL.—The Board of Education met yesterday. Miss Mary S. Fraser was elected a teacher in Walker Street School, and Mrs. Mattie J. Brown a teacher in Luckie Street School. The Board resolved to increase the capacity of the Walker Street and Decatur Street Schools, by providing additional rooms on the grounds. A committee of five was appointed to consider the subject of a location for a High School. Col. Grant reported the purchase by the city of a site for the Marietta Street School house, on Marietta street, opposite Rock street.

The Board resolved, that hereafter no teachers should be selected from the list of those first examined, but when other teachers are required, a new examination of applicants will be had.

DEGIVE'S.—Fortunio and his Gifted Servants was rendered in a very satisfactory manner to a fine audience at the above place of amusement last evening. The entire company, and there is no doubt as to its being an excellent one, was in the cast. Mrs. Oates, as Miss Myrtina, greatly delighted all present. She may at times be a little rapid in her articulation and appear rather too conscious of her attractiveness, yet last night she was charming, her singing was remarkably fine, and in her impersonation of Fortunio, she had all the energy of celery, the brightness of a star, and the sparkle of champagne. Mr. Allen is a little robust and substantial in physique, yet he did his female part as Princess Vindicta well. He is a good singer and a fine burlesque delineator. The make up of Mr. Crane, as King Alfonzito, was excellent. His songs and dances well, and as an ultra buffo and broad burlesque actor is particularly efficient. Each member of the Company is deserving of mention, but preoccupied space prevents it. All were well up in their parts, and fully contributed to the successful rendition of the piece. The incidents of Fortunio are based mainly upon the accomplishments of the gifted servants. During the entertainments of the wardrobe of the Company was seen to be very rich and elegant. The music consisting of songs, duets, trios, concerted pieces, etc., etc., was very fine, and elicited the approval of all present.

To-night, which he brought every one of Mrs. Oates, she will appear as Arline, in Balfe's English Opera of the Bohemian Girl.

My stock, in part, consists of the following:

The Seven Best Disinfectants.

CHLORIDE OF LIME.—One part in one hundred of water.

CARBOLIC ACID WASH.—Mix one part carbolic acid with one hundred parts milk of lime.

SOLUTION OF METALLIC SALTS.—Better to prepare saturated solutions in water, and frequently stir.

PERMANGANATE OF POTASH.—One part of the pure salt is dissolved in one hundred parts of water. Where the crude material is used, five to ten parts of it to one hundred of water will suffice. This disinfectant acts upon liquids, and has little effect on solids.

Carbolic acid water is obtained by dissolving one part of pure crystallized carbolic acid (which can be rendered fluid by immersion in hot water) in one hundred parts of water. Crude carbolic acid should be taken in double its quantity.

Carbolic Acid Powders can be prepared by ... hundred parts peat, dry sawdust, or charcoal powder, ... olic acid dissolved in water. ... of crude acid must be ... posed of one hundred parts coal ... Fifteen parts coal ... one of magnesium ...

The above list of ... disinfectants and their preparation will be found highly serviceable, and should not be forgotten.—Herald of Health.

☞ Does Mr. Bergh know how badly the unfortunate walrus is treated by American whalers in the Arctic ... There is a ... in the ... It ... stated that in ... were killed for their oil ... natives of these regions are ... dependent upon the walrus for food, clothing, boots and buildings. Wherefore the merchants of Boston are signing a petition to Congress, asking that some statute regulation may be made for the protection of this animal. It would be somewhat easier to pass such a law than to enforce it; for if the ships cannot fill up with whale oil the walrus oil is a great temptation, and helps cut the voyage amazingly.—Exchange.

A FAMOUS DOCTORESS.—The celebrated lady doctor—Miss Fowler—in practice in New Jersey, was recently married, and is now Mrs. Ormsby. She is a sister of Fowler, the phrenologist, and has met with extraordinary success as a medical practitioner of the homeopathic school. Her income from her practice has for years past been from $15,000 to $20 000 per year. She treats patients of both sexes; has the names of over 600 families on her practice books, and has more business than all the half dozen male doctors of the place put together. In carrying on her profession she drives between forty and fifty miles every day. She is remarkably successful as a doctor. She is a handsome woman of forty, clear headed, stout hearted, strong willed, vivacious and intellectual. Her husband is a New York merchant.—Exchange.

THE DEMAND FOR SEWING MACHINES.—Probably no one invention has come into such general use as the sewing machine. The business of manufacturing and selling them, says the Boston Commercial Bulletin, has grown up mainly within the past fifteen years, but during the last ten years has increased rapidly. There are now made and sold annually in the United States about seven hundred and fifty thousand sewing machines, and in every city, town, village and hamlet these useful machines are more or less in use. Some of the largest manufacturers are now running extra hours to keep up with orders, and are even then frequently unable to supply the demand. The Massachusetts companies are doing a large and remunerative business, many of them exporting their machines to all parts of the world, particularly to Europe.

A NICE CREW.—The Governor of Texas is threatened with impeachment.

The Governor of Louisiana has been brought before a Congressional investigating committee.

The Governor of Alabama was driven out of his office after his term expired.

The Governors of Nebraska and North Carolina have been impeached, and that of Georgia fled the State.

Governor Scott, of South Carolina, is threatened with impeachment. Such are the fruits of the great party of "moral ideas."—Lexington Dispatch.

LIFE PRESERVERS.—Rear-admiral Ryder, of the British navy, has recommended the substitution of mattresses stuffed with granulated cork for those now in use, not only on account of their great buoyancy, but owing to their economy in first cost. The suggestion is a good one, and might be adopted in our own marine. A mattress of this kind, with 11 pounds of cork, will float an iron weight of 60 pounds. They are used in the Russian navy, and nearly the whole of a ship company was recently saved by their instrumentality after a collision. Nor do they cost half as much as horse-hair mattresses.

A CLOUD BURST.—During the late rainy weather there was what was called a cloud burst in the deep canyon in the mountain side, above Colonel E. T. Dinsmore' place, during the evening, and suddenly a rush of water ten or fifteen feet deep, like a tidal wave, came roaring down the creek bed and overflowing its banks, tearing up trees of a foot and a half in diameter, while the impetuosity of the torrent took up and carried along the current huge boulders six and seven feet in diameter, and ten to twelve feet long! In half an hour after this terrible demonstration, the waters had all disappeared, and the quiet little brook went singing on its way.—Santa Barbara Press, February 10th.

☞ Mrs. Laura D. Fair's new trial is not a matter of certainty after all. The prosecuting officers announce their intention of applying for a rehearing of the case, alleging that the evidence introduced, upon which the Supreme Court granted a new trial, was for the purpose of combatting the plea of insanity. A deep feeling of dissatisfaction, coupled with a sense of insecurity, is said to pervade California society at the decision of the Supreme Court.

COTTON PLANTING IN TEXAS.—The Shreveport (La.) Times, says: "We regret to learn from our Texas exchanges that the planters of that State intend planting more largely in cotton than they did last year. And that is one drawback to the country resulting from the high price of cotton. It prompts a large planting of the staple and a consequent decline in price the succeeding year, with no grain in the country."

☞ Charles Francis Forte, who has had charge of the Morgue at Paris for twenty-six years, and who was popularly known as "L'Homme Rouge," recently died in that city. During his official life he made a record of all the bodies which came under his care, the total number being about twenty thousand, to which he added such facts and anecdotes as came to his knowledge about each one.

A PROGRESSIVE EMPEROR.—It is said that the present Emperor of Japan is the one hundred and twenty-fourth sovereign in direct succession from the eldest family known in ancient or modern history, and occupying a throne, has in four years reversed the decrees of centuries.

☞ Who was he? A mother speaking to her daughter of a certain young gentleman, said: 'You're fonder of ... but for my part, I think he is very like a cock that thinks the sun rose on purpose to hear him crow."

☞ The Detroit Free Press mentions the fact that the Radicals in Illinois are already laying their plans to defeat the re election of Mr. Trumbull to the United States Senate. Ex-Governor Oglesby is the man Grant's friends will put forward.

☞ The Nevada City National Gazette (Cal.) says the most useful members of the Legislature are those who have distinguished themselves by "brilliant flashes of profound silence." The Marysville Standard concurreth this as putstory of the Yuba delegation.

"AGGRAVATED IRRITATION."—Persons who are predisposed to dyspepsia, find their sufferings from this cause greatly aggravated by damp weather, easterly winds, and sudden changes from a mild to a chilling atmosphere. In the spring, therefore, the pangs of indigestion are seriously augmented by the atmospheric variations peculiar to the season, and it is incumbent upon all who desire to pass through the ordeal of its cold blasts and insalubrious gales with easy stomachs, and unfortunated by the indescribable torments which accompany dyspepsia, to tone and strengthen the digestive organs with a healthful and effective vegetable invigorant; and no one at all familiar with the medical record of the age, can question for one moment that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the Tonic best adapted to this purpose.

The credentials of the Great Restorative are unequalled in number and character by those of any other advertised medicine in the world. If ever there was a preparation to rank as a National Remedy, this wonderful specific has a fair claim to the title. For a period of twenty years it has literally been the Champion Tonic and Alterative on this side of the Atlantic. In popularity it has never been approached by any of its "would-be" competitors, and its annual sales are so far in advance of those of any other medicine of its class, that comparisons would be ridiculous. One or two conclusions is inevitable. Either the American people are deficient in common sense, and incapable of rational discrimination, or Hostetter's Bitters is the best preventive remedy for indigestion, fever and ague, billious remittent fever, constipation, rheumatism, nervous complaints, and all maladies of an epidemic or endemic type. The reader will judge for himself which of the two conclusions is most consistent with fact and reason. deod1w&w1t

THE BONDS OF GEORGIA.

Official Notice to the Bond Holders.

An Act

To protect the people of the State of Georgia against the illegal and fraudulent issue of bonds and securities, and for other purposes connected with the same.

Whereas, Divers bonds, purporting to be bonds of the State of Georgia, and divers bonds bearing the indorsement of the State, have been issued and put in circulation by Rufus B. Bullock, late Governor of said State, and divers bonds issued prior to his administration, have been negotiated by him: And whereas, it is believed that a large portion of said bonds have been illegally and fraudulently issued and negotiated, and the extent and amount of said bonds so issued and negotiated is unknown to this General Assembly,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Georgia, That there shall be a committee appointed of three, one by the President of the Senate, and two by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall have full power and authority to examine and ascertain the number of bonds which have been issued as hereinbefore recited in the preamble of this act, and the aggregate amount thereof; and so far as they have been sold or hypothecated, by whom sold, the amount of money paid, to whom paid, when paid, for what purpose negotiated, and all other facts connected with the history of said bonds, and to report the same to the General Assembly at its next session.

Section 2. Be it further enacted, That said committee so appointed, be authorized and required to meet and sit in the city of Atlanta during a term not exceeding sixty days, commencing March 1, 1873, for the purpose named in the first section of this act, and said committee are hereby invested with full power and authority to examine witnesses under oath, to send for persons, books and papers, and to exercise such other power as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act.

Section 3. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of said committee, immediately after their appointment to give notice of the time and place of sitting by publishing this preamble and act, at least two months prior to their sitting, in two newspapers in the city of Atlanta, two in the city of New York, two in the city of London, and one in the city of Frankfort.

Section 4. Be it enacted further, That all persons holding bonds of the State of Georgia, or bearing the indorsement of said State, issued since July, 1868, are hereby required to report the same to said committee for registration on or before the first day of April, 1872, and upon failure so to report said bonds, and to submit the same for registration, the same shall be deemed prima facie to have been illegally or fraudulently issued.

Section 5. Be it further enacted, That the Treasurer of said State, be, and he is hereby prohibited from paying any interest on any bonds issued, negotiated or indorsed by the State since the 4th day of July 1868, until said Committee shall have made their report and the General Assembly shall otherwise direct.

Section 6. Be it further enacted, That nothing contained in this act shall be so construed as to pledge the State of Georgia to the payment of any bonds issued or indorsed by the State since the 4th day of July, 1868, by reason of said bonds being registered as prescribed in this act, should it afterwards appear that the same have been illegally or fraudulently issued.

Section 7. Be it further enacted, That the Governor be and he is hereby authorized and required to draw his warrant upon the Treasury in favor of said committee, or such persons as they may designate for an amount sufficient to defray the expenses of publishing this preamble, and such other printing as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act.

Section 8. Be it further enacted, That all laws and parts of laws militating against this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

OLD ... COME OUT. Many ... are killing them. The fact that invalids weakened by disease can be relieved by prostrating them with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomaniacs. Ever since the introduction of Dr. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties are all-sufficient for the cure of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, diarrhœa, nervous affections, and malarious fevers, and they are now the standard remedy for those complaints in every section of the Union. feb16—dawtf

BEAUTY'S BEST AUXILIANT.—Ask the belle of the season what appointment of her toilet table holds the highest place in her esteem, and she will reply, without a moment's reflection, Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Nothing else is thoroughly ... contributes so powerfully to enhance her charms and render her irresistible as that most delightful and healthful auxiliary of beauty. By using it ladies are enabled long after they have passed the meridian of life, to preserve the youthful bloom and purity of their complexions, and where nature has denied that superlative attraction, the balm fully compensates for her deficiencies. feb27-deod1w&w1t

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the waste of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Pimples, Fevers, Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm, and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person, using it, the power of these forms of disease its potent powers to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the waste and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does accomplish—cure is certain; for when the RESOLVENT commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for
